Leo Wang

Software Student

About Me

Experienced private tutor with a background in web development looking for opportunities in Software Engineering. Skilled in creating personalised lesson plans, facilitating understanding of complex concepts, and fostering a positive learning environment. Eager to apply technical expertise and passion for education to contribute to innovative software development projects.

Contact Information

Location: Auckland, New Zealand

Skills & Expertise

★★★ Proficient

Web Development, Web Design, Responsive Web Design, HTML, CSS, Microsoft 365 (Office), Windows, MacOS.

★★ Comfortable

JavaScript, Next.js, Linux (Ubuntu), Agile and Waterfall Methodologies, Adobe Creative Suite, Chinese Mandarin.

★ Familiar

Python, C, MATLAB, Blender 3D.

Professional Experience

CAM Studio

Web Developer July 2024—present

Less than one month to independently create a website for CAM Studio, a private photography business in Auckland, New Zealand.

- Independently designed and developed a website for photography business CAM Studio, showcasing photography portfolio, services, and contact form.
- Providing ongoing maintenance and updates as requested by the client.

Achievements

Bachelor of Engineering (Honours)

University of Auckland

Specialising in Software Engineering. Expected Completion in 2027.
Relevant Coursework: Object-Oriented Programming, Data Structures and Algorithms, Software Design, Database Systems, Web Development.

140th Anniversary Academic Scholarship

University of Auckland

Awarded to recognise excellent academic achievement. Confirmed November 2023, awarded February 2024 following completion of NCEA Level 3 with Excellence Endorsed.

Hobbies & Interests

I am passionate about technology, software development, and continuous learning. Outside of coding, I play badminton, watch films, and explore new ideas through my studies. Additionally, I have experience tutoring mathematics and English, which has strengthened my communication and problem-solving abilities. I am always eager to take on new challenges and expand my skill set.